African-American Branding Coach helps entrepreneurs increase rapport and revenues

BROOKLYN, NY (June 5, 2006) –"80% of businesses that have "personal rapport" with their customers get 20% more repeat business," states Everaldo Gallimore, Branding Coach with Gallimore Design. Getting "personal" by remembering birthdays, saying thank you and congratulating people for their successes, helps business people be more effective and prosperous. Gallimore has just released animated GD-eBox ecards, www.gd-ebox.com that helps entrepreneurs stay "top of mind" with their customers, partners and stakeholders and solidify relationships.

The animated GD-eBox ecards are a mini-branding tool to help people reconnect, remember, build relationships and get more clients and revenues. The specific themes and the personalization (your name, your company, your website or email) are popular with online businesses and individuals. "We purchased the Gallimore Design animated GD-eBox ecards www.gd-ebox.com because of the impressive visual presentation," says Roger Madison Jr. of iZania, LLC. "The high-quality animated GD-eBox ecards fit our distribution needs for communicating directly with our audience of more than 4,300 subscribers. Our customers like the greetings and from a marketing standpoint, we received a high click through response."

The animated GD-eBox ecards, www.gd-ebox.com are easy to select, personalize, order and use. Order by June 7th and save $5. All animated GD-eBox ecards are a great marketing value since they can be sent an unlimited number of times to as many emails at you want. "I got great feedback when I sent people my personalized animated GD-eBox ecards. The images and music got the attention of business prospects," says Eric Frazier of Eric Frazier Music.
